Report on Webinar on "Upcoming trends in Mediation and Emotional Intelligence to enhance your Profession"

Emotions play a very important role in the field for dispute resolution, but very often are neither understood nor effectively addressed by the parties to the dispute, also not properly controlled and managed by the professionals that are helping the parties to reach peaceful dispute resolution. We being Lawyer and part of dispute resolution system must have to understand the inter-relevance of emotional intelligence and alternative dispute resolution mechanism such as mediation, negotiation etc so as to provide effective solution to the problems.

With this objective Marathwada Mitra Mandal's Shankarrao Chavan Law College, Pune has organized this webinar on "Upcoming trends in Mediation and Emotional Intelligence to enhance your Profession"on 11th July 2020.

Objectives –

1. To discuss and define emotions and their role in solving legal disputes by the means of mediation processes
2. To outline main elements of the process of developing emotional intelligence as they play out in the mediation processes
3. To explore some new trends and mechanisms for addressing and optimizing the emotional climate in mediation processes

For this webinar we had invited Ms. Viddulata Gawade, Director of Vivant Holistic Development Centre, Pune and Accredited Mediator. During her talk, she shared her experiences with the participants and stressed on how emotional intelligence is important in the field of mediation.The effective mediator must take into account not only the economic, political and physical aspects of the process, but also the emotional tenor of themselves as well as that of all
