EDITORIAL

It gives me immense pleasure to introduce & present our Inaugural issue of SCLC Journal of Contemporary issues (Student Edition). With an intention to provide platform for students to explore their research skills, we have started this student editorial journal from the AY 2019-2020. We could see enthusiasm, potential & innovative skills of students when this platform was made available to them. Students have enlightened us on many vibrant, current & multi-disciplinary topics related to law by writing research articles for this journal. In view of social engineering theory propounded by Roscoe Pound, Law should change to meet changing needs of the society. Society is dynamic in nature & in the era of globalization, society is changing very fast. Hence being part of law fraternity, we should ponder upon questions like how to keep pace with the changing society? In what directions present legal system is working? And so on. Through this student editorial, we have attempted to find out many answers to such problems. Our quest doesn't stop here but we feel contended by doing some contribution to solve existing problems.

I would like to take an opportunity to convey my heartfelt thanks to Hon'ble B.G. Jadhav - Executive President of Marathwada Mitra Mandal, Pune & management members of MM for their constant guidance & support in bringing out this student Editorial Journal. I also convey my gratitude to all co-editors, advisory members & entire team of SCLC Journal of Contemporary issues for their relentless efforts in publishing First issue of this Journal.

We have received overwhelming response in first attempt & team of SCLC Journal of Contemporary issues has selected twenty eight research papers for publication in its Inaugural issue. This response has given us the inspiration to continue this enlightening journey of research and exploration.
