Guidance for Competitive Examinations

1. International Symposium on "Understanding Gender Violence: A comparative study between India and UK"

(13th January, 2023)

Aims and objectives of the International Guest Lecture:

By participating in this symposium, law students gain valuable insights into the diverse cultural and legal contexts surrounding gender violence, allowing them to develop a nuanced understanding that is crucial for success in competitive examinations such as JMFC, MPSC etc.

The symposium facilitates a platform for students to engage with experts in the field, enabling them to broaden their knowledge base and stay abreast of the latest developments in gender violence jurisprudence, which can prove advantageous in competitive examinations that often test current awareness. Gender-based violence is a global public health emergency that has plagued girls and women throughout history. Defined as harmful acts directed at an individual based on their gender, it is a constant threat for girls and women around the world regardless of their age, race, or socioeconomic status. To address this global concern, our college has organised this guest lecture to understand the life cycle of violence in women's social relations.

Tel : 81493 40004 Email : mmsclc@gmail.com Website : www.sclc.edu.in

Need and Importance of the topic:

This kind of targeted violence is rooted in systemic gender inequality and can be physical, sexual, economic, or psychological. It can be in the form of a child undergoing female genital mutilation; a student assaulted in her dorm; a stay-at-home mom restricted from accessing financial resources; a woman tortured mentally and physically on giving birth to a girl child; a female foetus aborted or killed in the womb.

How it will help the Law students:

The statistics on gender-based violence are bleak. The United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs estimates that 1 in 3 women worldwide experience physical or sexual abuse in her lifetime. In 2020, the UN Office on Drugs and Crime found that, on average, worldwide, a girl or woman is killed by someone in her own family every 11 minutes.

Gender-based violence in India is defined as physical, sexual, and psychological harm, which is still a major public health problem despite numerous policies and programs. It is also a fact that human rights violations are committed against men as well as women. Over the past few decades, gender-based violence has increasingly come to be recognized as the serious problem at the international level, not only for women but also for the attainment of equality, development, and peace. The issue has become a priority for women's organizations in various part of states and a subject for a feminist. In recent years government have also begun to devote attention to this issue.

The outcome of gender-based violence in India is long-lasting for its victims and rampant for the often-inadequate responses. Hence, it is crucial to maintain the sense of urgency in gender- based violence cases, even during crisis situations.

The students of law need to understand the depth of this global concern so that legal empowerment of students would grant courage to face challenges of life and get justice for crimes against women.

Case Study 1: Sex work and everyday violence in urban India

Case Study 2: Domestic abuse and Asian-origin women in East England

Research implications: ethics, methods, approaches

Question Answer Session

This lecture has helped sensitizing students towards gender and sexual identities other than the universal male/female heterosexual and heteronormative identities prevalent in the world. It also helped them in understanding the importance of theory to understand the concept and also what exactly gender violence is. Students get to know the structural and cultural violence which exists in every society and in every country no matter whether it is developed or developing country. Dr.Mirna shared the sites of data collection to help students to have in-depth knowledge and understanding of the issue.

Number of Participants:

128studentsof B.A.LLB, 1st Year participated in this two hours session.

Feedback Details:

- Students participated in this session and looking at their responses and queries that they had, more such lectures need to be organised for the budding lawyers.
- Students/ participants realized that the fundamental problem is lack of awareness, anxiety, acceptance, lack of education, guilt, confusion, hesitation to ask questions related to gender violence especially in understanding the comparison between India and UK.
- According to many students such comparative study and analysis should be a part of their Gender Studies in the current curriculum offered by the University.

VENUE:HALL NO501,SCLC

TIME:1.00PM– 3.00 PM

SUBJECT:LITIGATIONPRACTICEFORNEWLAWYERS

RESOURCEPERSON:ADV.SWAROOP GODBOLE

BENEFICIARIES: 120

AIM OF THE WORKSHOP:To get into the field of law, one needs to have a base set ofskills: a strongly analytical and dispassionate frame of mind, ability to think on one's feet,openness to new ideas, a lifelong willingness to learn and a capacity to work very hard. Ajudge of the Supreme Court, being the final arbiter of any dispute in India, is expected to becomfortable with any question put in front of them (with reasonable preparation). Judges inthis country have adjudicated upon extremely diverse topics, and the same capacity isexpected from Advocates. To truly gauge the possibility of one's suitability to thisprofession, this lecture was organised where the students heard about first hand experiencesandthejourneyofanadvocatewithanobjectivethatifonecanfindparallelsandinspiration,thenthereis definitely scopeforsuccess in the field of litigation.

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP: The said guest lecture was conducted my Adv. Swaroop Godbole, a practicing advocate. The lecture focused on his personal experiences and enlightening about how to set up a litigation practice for a new lawyer. He spoke about the expectations from the field and how to map the career progress flowchart. For a recent graduate of the profession, there are a few general career paths. Litigation, corporate law, inhouse legal counsel work, legal outsourcing (LPO) work, or public policy avenues, amongothers. Corporate legal work generally offers the best starting salaries. He spoke about howLitigation is a difficult profession that seriously takes up one's time and pays very little, untilone starts their own practice. Because of these reasons, there is always work available forpeople willing to dedicate their lives to the profession, without expecting much in return,except experience, at least for the first few years. He advised reading the biographies/storiesof eminent lawyers and judges. He spoke about how the possibilities in this field, therefore,are just about endless, and are limited only to the ambition of the person. One needs to figureout what they enjoy and keep at it. The pecuniary rewards in litigation are huge.

OUTCOME OF THE WORKSHOP: The workshop was attended by the students of 1st LLB, 2nd BA.LLB and 2nd BBA.LLB. Overall, there were 130 Students who attended theguest lecture. It was a fun, interactive and learning session. The feedback of the studentswaspositive. They highly appreciated the speaker. The students were enlightened and motivatedto pursue a career in litigation, especially the first-generation lawyers. Students got a clarityon how to start pursuing this profession and understood the pros and cons of the same. At theend, we also had an interactive Question and answer session in which students asked varietyof relevant questions and the speaker answered all of them with utmost clarity and in aprecise manner.

5. Mock Interviews

The Placement Cell organized Mock Interviews for the Students on 13th and 18th April 2023. Total 28 students participated in this. The objective of the mock interview was to simulate a real interview scenario and provide students with a hands-on experience to enhance their interview skills and confidence. The primary goals of the mock interview were to help students develop and improve their interview skills, including effective communication, articulation of thoughts, and professional presentation. It provided a platform for students to practice and refine their interview techniques.

The mock interview allowed students to assess their performance objectively. It helped them identify their strengths and areas that need improvement, such as body language, response clarity, or confidence level. This self-assessment enabled students to focus on specific areas and work on enhancing their overall interview performance.

The mock interview provided students with constructive feedback and guidance from experienced professionals.

M.M.M'S Shankarrao Chavan Law College * Pune-4 *

Overall, the objective of the mock interview was to equip students with practical interview experience, self-assessment opportunities, and constructive feedback, ultimately enhancing their interview skills and increasing their chances of success in real-life interviews.
