Introduction

The MMMs Shankarrao Chavan Law College ensures that the extension activities should have a very important place in the college plan. The Logo of the college has a motto 'Welfare of Masses' itself is the indicator that the college is committed to serving society. It is said that lawyers are social engineers and their role in nation building is very important. Right from the beginning of the college, the best practices for extension are being observed by the college. To continue the tradition college has adopted the Extension Policy.

Objective:

The extension policy highlights the systemisation and standardisation of the extensive activities. The objective is to promote extensive activities to enhance legal and skilled education with social development. Object of the policy is to contribute in to societal development. All the centres, cell and departments of the college are encourage to conduct various activities and ensure student and faculty involvement. The policy is applicable to the students, faculty members and staff of the college.

1. All Faculty members and students should be involved in extension and outreach activities. The programs organized should help in imbibing the spirit of service among them.
2. Various cells and centres i.e. N.S.S., Cell for Human Rights Activities (CHRA), Family Counselling Centre and Legal Aid Centre must conduct extension activities. It should help to build society through the service of the college.
3. Special care and consideration are to be given to orphans, senior citizens, tribal communities, women, economically marginalized sections of society etc.
4. Establishing links and collaborations/MoUs with local, national, regional and global institutions which may include NGOs, private companies and government departments so that the college will be able to work more effectively and will be able to reach the neighbouring community.

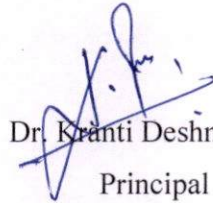

5. Awareness should be created among Students, Faculty Members and neighbouring communities about various activities of centres involved in extension activities.

Various cells and centres of the college conducts the activities and takes the review of the respective activities.
